FOREWORD

As a company, we are dedicated to growth and innovation, always striving to adapt to the ever-changing market landscape. In response to broader market trends and customer needs, TAL Apparel launched a major strategic reorganization in 2021.

This reorganization segments our company into five distinct business units, each with a unique focus and expertise. While our product offerings have always encompassed categories beyond what TAL is famous for, i.e. dress shirts, we are now able to invest dedicated resources to those product categories such as knit and casual wear, outerwear and tailored clothing, to become more relevant and exponentially grow those segments.

Each of the business units is led by a President with full profit and loss accountability and decision-making authority. This allows for a more efficient decision process and a customized approach to better serve our customers in those business units. We also have i) a Chief Customer Officer role to ensure consistency of our strong relationship and service to the customers across BUs, and ii) a Chief Operating Officer role to ensure synergy across functions such as finance, human capital management, product engineering and automation to leverage TAL's scale and remain cost competitive.

We are confident that this reorganization will unlock new opportunities and help TAL Apparel achieve the next level of success, alongside our valued customers. Thank you for your ongoing support and we look forward to continuing to serve you with the highest level of quality and service.

LAYERING NEW POSSIBILITIES

The Third Layer has the capacity to produce a wide range of outerwear products, from overcoats to soft blazers, and even tailored clothing for select clients. Modern Updates of Timeless Classics

Overcoats and trench coats comprise one of TTL's main categories.

The overcoat has been a staple in menswear since the 19th century, and its enduring appeal is a testament to its functionality and versatility. The trench coat is more complex in construction. Back in the day, its resistance to water and wear made it the garment of choice for "trench" warfare. Today, the trench coat has evolved a lighter and slimmer cut, making it a seasonal essential for many different occasions.

Versatile Pieces For All Seasons

With looser cuts and more neutral colorways, soft blazers and unconstructed jackets are less formal than suit jackets and show their versatility all year round.

Stylish yet practical, quilted jackets are one of TTL's expanding outerwear product categories. Our range now includes hybrid garments and reversible quilted gilets.

The Top Gun of Jackets

Back in 1917, bomber jackets, originally known as flight jackets, were created by the US Army Aviation Clothing Board to keep their pilots warm and secure. Its core design has remained the same, speaking volumes for the timelessness of its classic silhouette.

Military Inspired Garment

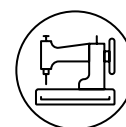

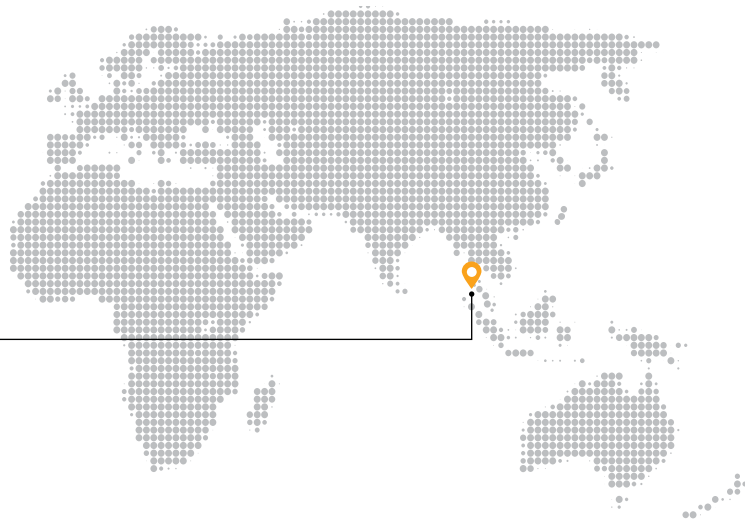

The field jacket is an enduring favorite of safari explorers as well as urban adventurers. With their multiple pockets and flattering cuts, the field jacket is highly utilitarian and easy to pair with vests and t-shirts.

ONE PIECE at A TIME

Decoded is now the business unit that creates Made-To-Measure (MTM) garments, with key products such as customized shirts, pants, knits, outerwear, and suits. What we offer is the flexibility that allows clients to select their own styles, fabric, materials, sleeves, stitching and even monograms.

Customization Down To The Last Detail

For shirts, customers can freely select the fabric quality, type of collar, cuffs, pockets, plackets, back and monogram, etc. For outerwear or suit jackets, they can select the specific styling for the shoulders, armholes, sleeves, and lapels. For suit pants, they can decide what types of pockets, waistbands, buttons, and belt loops they prefer.

Clear Advantages

Short production lead time is one of the clear advantages of Made-To-Measure (MTM). The MTM process flow is a One-Piece flow, which enables us to track the entire timeline to achieve quality production while balancing cost and efficiency. Brands may also submit smaller volume orders to cater to their customer demand.

Premium Denim

MTM pants are made for durability and endure as classic pieces that stand the test of time. Our MTM Denim Jeans offer the outstanding comfort and versatility that is essential for every classic staple. To ensure that the denim performs to our highest quality standards, we begin with in-depth market research and sourcing of premium fabric, then conduct different denim washes to review color effect and consistency of fabric.
